DRASTIC ACTION IN DUFFEY CASE

Jim Sullivan Makes Him a Horrid Example.

WANTS LEGAL PUNISHMENT

Taking Away Records Not Sufficient
Punishment—England and Australia
Receive the Sad News.

The confession of Arthur F. Duffey, the former Georgetown sprinter and world's record holder for the 100-yard dash, that he has supported himself through his ability as an amateur athlete, has created a furore in Amateur Athletic Union circles.

Speaking of the matter James E. Sullivan, secretary of the A. A. U. and chairman of the record committee, says: "That the statement is true, of course, now all will admit. No good can possibly come from denying that this statement is not absolutely true, and his confession will, no doubt, be a good thing for amateur sport. It will open the eyes of the athletic officials of the world, who have been hoodwinked for years.

Artistic Concealment.

"Duffey has certainly concealed his identity in an artistic manner. He has fooled the officials of the Intercollegiate Association and of Georgetown University, who were responsible to the Intercollegiate Association for his entry; he has posed in Great Britain as an amateur and has fooled the officials of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States as well.

"It is a well-known fact that the officials of the Amateur Athletic Union had decided to refuse a registration card to Duffey in case he should try to compete again. They felt that after his last trip around the country an investigation would naturally be in order, so he voluntarily retired from his amateur position, and now exposes himself and purposes to expose others. In England they have a legal committee and a legal fund to prosecute just such athletes as Duffey admits he is, and I firmly believe that the Intercollegiate Association and the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States should appropriate money and proceed to prosecute Duffey, if possible. No punishment that can be meted out is too severe for Duffey.

Erases His Records.

"His name has been fraudulently placed upon our records and he has been given events that he himself admits he was not entitled to, and as editor of the Official Athletic Almanac, which is the recognized athletic almanac of America, I have this day eliminated Duffey's name from the record books, and in future editions of the Almanac, such wins as have been credited to him in the past in England, Australia, and America, I will leave blank, with the hope that the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association, the Amateur Athletic Association of Great Britain, the Australasian Amateur Athletic Association and the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States will agree with me in this punishment must be imposed on Duffey, and that those who finished second to him in the different events throughout the world will be credited as winners, and I have this day taken from the amateur records, that I compile, the following records of Duffey's:

These Marks Go.

"Forty yards—4:55; made in Boston February 13 and March 4, 1899; also February 16, 1901.

"Fifty yards—5:25; Washington, D. C., February 21, 1904.

"Sixty yards—6:25; made in New York city November 30, 1899, and June 7, 1902.

"One hundred yards—The world's record, 8:55; made at Berkeley Oval May 1, 1902.

"I have taken his name from the list of America's champions for the year 1899—100 yards championship, 108.

"On my record book of the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America Duffey's name will be stricken from the records of 1901, 1902, and 1903.

"His records, 93 ft. of his records, will be left out of the A. A. U. record books. I am willing to lead this campaign, and I have this day taken from the amateur records, that I compile, the following records of Duffey's:

Woe at Georgetown.

At Georgetown the athletic officials refuse to discuss the much-talked-of case. During his course Duffey was one of the best students in the university and when he graduated he stood well in his class. Duffey entered Georgetown from Worcester Academy in 1899 and was

HARVARD WORRIED OVER YALE GAME

O'Brien Weak at End and Comparative
Scores Against West Point
Are Discouraging.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 30.—Harvard's good showing against Brown Saturday has not created a feeling of overconfidence in the Crimson camp.

The coaches, it is true, were extremely pleased with the work of their men in some departments of the game, but in others they were disappointed. The work of O'Brien at left end was particularly disappointing. All season Harvard has considered him her most likely end candidate, yet his work against Brown was deficient in almost every necessary requisite. Twice he allowed Schwartz to circle his extremity for twenty-five yards, and at other times he was drawn in badly and was saved only by the splendid work of his halfback. In running down the field under punts he was slow and even allowed Knowlton, tackle, and Carr, fullback, to beat him out.

Another reason why Harvard is not overconfident lies in the fact that Saturday she won largely through her superior weight. While her plays were started quickly and were well executed, it was easily seen that in the end it was the weight and brawn which told. Yale's score of 20 to 0 against West Point caused a shiver in the Cambridge stamping ground. Against the same team a week earlier in its development, Harvard was the weaker, and he has been correspondingly weaker. Harvard scored only one touchdown, and that a fluke. As regards the Pennsylvania game, Harvard has not rested upon the confidence. Captain Russ of Brown is of the opinion that Harvard is stronger than Penn; that her line is better, her ends no weaker, and he has perhaps a trifle faster. He also praises Harvard's versatile attack. Russ, however, has not rested upon the confidence, and he is physically able to get right down to hard work. This week several coaches not here before were to aid in routing out the eleven. New formations to be used against Princeton will be devised and perfected, and the signals for use in the contest with the Tigers will be given out to the men.

YALE COACHES PLAN WEEK OF HARD WORK

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 30.—Hard work to stiffen up the Yale defense tighter, to improve the punting and to get new formations will be the routine of the Yale coaches in their labors with the eleven this week.

The cooler weather will allow of plenty of strenuous work, and the candidates will get it. The result of the West Point contest was pleasing to the Yale coaches and players, and the latter are not much the worse for the hard game and are physically able to get right down to hard work. This week several coaches not here before were to aid in routing out the eleven. New formations to be used against Princeton will be devised and perfected, and the signals for use in the contest with the Tigers will be given out to the men.

Had Duffey entered Georgetown this fall and the scandal not arisen it is doubtful if he would be allowed to compete, as the strict eligibility conditions now required will bar from the university's teams men whose records are as shady as has been Duffey's for the past couple of years.

Personal Comment on Men and Things in the Field of Sports

FOOTBALL.

Georgetown's only chance of defeating Washington and Jefferson at Pittsburg was ruined by a heavy rainstorm on Friday night, which converted the gridiron at Friendship Park into a veritable morass of mud. When the players went on to the field, the gridiron was ankle deep in mud, which made it impossible for the Blue and Gray to get up speed. At times Georgetown made steady gains, but was unable to keep going after passing the middle of the field.

George Washington suffered greatly because of the absence of Captain Stearnson on Saturday. The whole Buff and Blue team was slow. Stearnson expects to get back in the game within the next few days.

Thompson, Cornell's great guard, is suffering from a sprained knee, and for a time it was thought that his services for this season would be lost.

Penn is having her troubles. Who is the next to be declared ineligible in that aggregation that gave promise of being the best back in September?

Coach Lewis is reported as saying that the present varsity spirit of Harvard compares with that which attended the successful campaign of 1901.

"Mother" Webb, Columbia's trainer, has pointed out to the coaches how injurious it is to the players to indulge in after-dinner practice at night. Instead Coach Morley will take the candidates out for signal practice before breakfast.

Garey, who played quarterback, and A. W. Smith, who was end, on West Point Saturday, and Captain Howard of the Navy, all played together on St. John's Annapolis. Garey was captain of the team.

BOXING.

Kid Murphy, of New York, who was matched to meet Danny Donahue, of Philadelphia, for fifteen rounds before the Eastern Athletic Club of Baltimore on Thursday night next, has called off the match, as he hurt his right hand while training.

Chick Tucker, the featherweight, who goes up against Abe Attell for three rounds tomorrow night before the Sumner Athletic Club of East Thirtieth street, New York, is fast rounding into form.

Young Corbett, who is to meet Kid Goodman, of New England, tomorrow night at the Douglas Athletic Club at Chelsea, Mass., has arrived in Boston and is said to be in a little better shape for the bout. Corbett knows that the New England pugilist's champion is a tough man to beat, more especially in a fifteen-round tilt.

The County Democratic Club, of Chicago will tonight open the winter season. The program consists of five boxing bouts and one wrestling match between members of the organization. Jack Root, the well-known middleweight, meets Jack Moffatt, Joe Kosid faces Eddie Johnson, Sam Randall faces Charley Silver, Frank Whittle meets Tom Edwards, and Paddy Carver rolls mixes up with Mike Munger. John Rooney, the wrestling policeman, meets Bob Douglas in two best falls out of three, catch-as-catch-can style.

Young Donahue, the clever Boston featherweight, is hooked up with Harry Lewis, of Philadelphia, tonight for six rounds at catch-weights, before the Washington Sporting Club, of Philadelphia. Donahue has defeated Unk Russell and Jim Bonner within two weeks' time.

Tommy Feliz, the Brooklyn featherweight, who is to meet Harry Scroggs, of Baltimore, tomorrow night in fifteen rounds before the Nonpareil Athletic Club, of Highlandtown, Md., has arrived in Baltimore, looking in tip-top shape.

Joe Jeannette, the colored middleweight, is now matched to meet Black Bill, the colored Merchantville, N. J., heavyweight, on Tuesday night before the Wilmington Athletic Club, of Wilmington, Del., for ten rounds.

Jimmy Walsh, the bantamweight champion of New England, who recently defeated Digger Stanley, is matched to meet Owen Moran, of New England, for twenty rounds before the National Sporting Club, of London, England.

It is more than likely that Andy McGarry and Jack Lee, two good lightweights of New York, who boxed a three-round draw on Friday night last, will be matched to meet to a finish in private for a good size side bet.

BILLIARDS.

Thomas Hueston, of St. Louis, has challenged Alfred De Oro for the emblem of the pool championship of America.

Maurice Daly is trying to arrange two ballkine contests between Albert G. Cutler, of Boston, and Thomas J. Gallagher, one game to be played in Boston and the other at Daly's Academy.

John Roberts, the English champion billiardist, has announced that after this year he will play billiards in public halls. He is now located at the Soho Square (London) room, where he gives exhibitions, for which he receives the largest salary ever paid a member of the profession in Great Britain.

Calvin Demarest, of Chicago, is a youthful aspirant for the amateur billiard championship. He recently made a grand average of 10 in ballkine tournament games at Mussey's, and is said to be a certain entry in the national class A tournament, which will be held at the Chicago Athletic Club next March.

TROTTING.

Dan Patch has performed before about 25,000 people this fall.

Katherine L. 2:12 1/4 will raise a foal before being raced again.

Boreazelle has been placed in the hands of Floot Jolly for training.

Turley, 2:07 1/4, is the first Tennessee horse with a record of 2:10.

Eleven trotters just failed to get into the magic circle of 2:10 this year.

Ben White is back at the Ideal Farm for the winter, after a successful season.

Rain greatly interfered with the financial success of the Lima, Ohio, race meeting.

The pacer, Major McKinley, 2:30 1/4, owned by Oscar Ames, wears no boots whatever.

Six of the produce of the brood mare Schabell Girl have obtained standard records.

More 2:10 trotters were developed this year than ever before in the history of the trotting turf.

George Starr has been offered $10,000 for his stallion, The Director General, sire of Mainstreet, 2:08 1/4.

SCROFULA AN AWFUL INHERITANCE

While it is true that Scrofula may be acquired under certain conditions, it is usually inherited. Parents who are related by the ties of blood, or who have a consumptive tendency, or family blood taint of any character, are sure to transmit it to their children in the form of Scrofula. Swollen glands, brittle bones, poor digestion, weak eyes, Catarrh, emaciated bodies and general weak constitutions are the principal ways in which the disease is manifested. The blood has been diseased from birth, and being in this condition cannot properly nourish the body and Scrofula is the result. A hereditary disease like this can only be reached, by a constitutional remedy and nothing equals S. S. S. as a cure for it. It cleanses and strengthens the deteriorated blood, drives out all scrofulous and tubercular deposits, and there is a gradual but sure return to health. S. S. S. supplies the to the anemic, lifeless blood the properties necessary to build back to strong, robust health, and does this gently and so thoroughly that no signs of the disease are ever seen in after life. Being purely vegetable S. S. S. is the best remedy for Scrofula; its harmless but healing ingredients enter into the circulation and replace wax-like, bloodless faces with vigorous strength glowing with health. Book with information about Scrofula and medical advice free.

Championship at Stake In Tomorrow's Contest

Central and Western to Play at National Park for Title Among High School Teams.
Large Crowd Expected.

The championship of the Washington high schools will be decided tomorrow afternoon, when Central and Western meet at National Park.

Seldom in recent years has a contest between rival scholastic teams in this city excited the interest that is being shown in tomorrow's game. After having won the pennant for a number of seasons Central last year had a slump and finished third in the race. This fall, however, the work of the wearers of the Blue and White has been highly satisfactory to their followers. Eastern, considered before the beginning of the campaign as one of the most formidable of the aspirants for the championship, went down before Central, and later on Central doubled Tech's score against Bushnell.

Has Never Won Title.

Western has never won the championship since the reorganization of the league, but this year the west-enders have surprised their rivals by their showings against Eastern and Tech, and the Georgetown rooters will go to National Park tomorrow hopeful of being able to cheer their favorite school's first pennant winning team.

This season there has been an unwonted interest in the games between the high schools, and the present indications are that the largest crowd of the season will be on hand to see tomorrow's game. Ropes will be stretched around the gridiron, and every precaution will be taken in order to handle the crowd. In order to do away with the crowds on the sidelines the board of faculty directors has made arrangements to distribute only a number of side line privileges.

For the first time this fall Captain MacDonald will be in Central's first line-up, and the followers of the Blue and White are expecting to see his presence infuse new life into the team.

All of Western's players with the exception of Muir are in good shape for the game. The little quarterback was slightly injured in practice last week, but it is expected that he will round into condition and be ready to start the game. Should he be unable to play either Stevenson or Brown will be in his place.

Mr. Cass, of Lehigh, and Mr. Sutor, of Princeton, have been agreed upon to act as referee and umpire, respectively. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock. The probable line-up follows:

ARMY DISAPPOINTED BY SHOWING OF TEAM

Yale's Overwhelming Victory Showed Defects in West Point Eleven—Fear
Defeat in Navy Game.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 30.—West Point finds it a hard matter to become reconciled to the crushing defeat which she received from Yale Saturday. It is needless to state that Army supporters were greatly surprised. Now things look very blue for the Army on December 2, when the Army and Navy meet. Defeat was shown in West Point's team which can hardly be remedied. The team has few injuries. Christy and Weeks are in the hospital, but will soon be out. The others are bruised considerably.

The men realize that they will be a beaten team on December 2 unless there is a great change, and every effort will be made to bring about that change. After one day's rest everybody will be made to get down to hard work to try and get ready for the game with the Carlisle Indians on November 11. This will be West Point's next game, since the game with Vermont for next Saturday has been canceled.

There will probably be one or two changes in the team here during the next two weeks unless some of the men do a good deal better than they have done. They tackle around the neck, play high in the line, fail to get the charge on their opponents, and do not follow the ball. West Point has not had such a team for years. It is thought that so many successive victories over the Navy have made the cadets overconfident and indifferent. The three defeats in the last three weeks ought to make West Point realize how poor her team is. At any rate, lots of hard work is in store for the football squad.

PRINCETON'S DEFENSE IS WEAK IN SPOTS

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 30.—The Princeton football squad returned yesterday morning in good condition, with only one injury from the Columbia game.

The coaches were not altogether satisfied with the showing made in Saturday's contest, in spite of the fact that the eleven had been instructed to play a defensive game in the first half. The team seemed to take too long to find its strength, and at the same time showed that it had underestimated the ability of the New Yorkers, especially on the attack. Columbia went through the line time after time in the earlier part of the game, and showed up two weak spots in particular.

The work this week will be devoted to strengthening the defense, which had a severe strain on Saturday and fell short of the expectations of many. With Herring back at right tackle and Carothers at center, Princeton ought to have a much stouter team.

C. K. G. Billings presented the broken-down gelding Captor, 2:09 1/4, to Charles Marvin. The veteran trainer doctor and nursed Captor for many months and he has been rewarded for his patience.
